

each conveying for ^{different} consignments of clothing and purses of money in a caravan going to Egypt. ~~For other examples cf. below Ch. IX (2), p. 12.~~

It is noteworthy that one merchant asks the addressee to send hand over his consignments to a ^{captain} Muslim and only in the latter's absence to a Jew called by name.

$$x \text{ C9} = 00 \text{ z}$$

$$x \text{ b z} = \text{b b l}$$