

in Med. Soc. III, IX, C, 2, n. 34

Scientifically written, small place written by a person from a provincial town, where the writer looking for an appointment

10/6 20
1914

Handwritten notes on the left side of the page, including the number 77 and some illegible characters.

Main body of handwritten text in Hebrew, consisting of approximately 26 numbered lines. The text is written in a cursive style and contains various words and phrases, some of which are underlined or circled.

many men
slept simply on
the floor in the hot climate

grandmother
Handwritten notes at the bottom left of the page.